2nd German American Energy Conference 2010

March 22 - 23, 2010 in Berlin

Jan Christoph Wiedemann

Managing Director

German American Chamber of Commerce of the Southern US, Inc.
Texas Office

Jan Christoph Wiedemann studied business administration at Georg-August University in Göttingen, Germany and at ESCI (Ecole Supérieure de Commerce International) in Fontainebleau, France. During his studies, he placed considerable emphasis on Marketing and International Business.

Prior to working at the German American Chamber of Commerce of the Southern US, Inc. (GACC South), Mr. Wiedemann worked for NRG Deutschland GmbH where he worked as a business consultant.

Mr. Wiedemann joined the GACC South in Atlanta, Georgia in April 2006 where he was responsible for federal projects, market studies, delegations and Renewable Energy projects. In December 2007, he moved to Houston, Texas to head the new GACC Houston Office.

With a focus on energy in general and on Renewable Energies in particular, the office currently has six employees and assists the German Renewable Energy Industry in the US Market. Mr. Wiedemann's office headed the organization of the 1st German American Energy Conference together with the German American Chambers of Commerce (AHK USA) and the German Energy Agency (dena).

Mr. Wiedemann is a member of the Mayor's International Affairs and Development Council/Europe in Houston, TX, and is also actively involved with the Rotary Club Houston.
